You work with smart people.

For demanding clients.

Who expect world-class performance.

You need a smarter, more flexible workspace.

Who needs a fixed workstation, their own office, a permanent conference room? Only a handful of people! Why? Because tasks change as jobs change, workers change as tasks change, and space changes as the number of people changes. No architecture can do justice to this. But within four walls, there is the intelligent, award-winning Frisco range. Free room for innovative storage and cool organization.
