

Pedestals

Rethinking the office

Order!

Pedestals are the dumb waiters of the office. Indispensable, multifunctional “team members” which do an invaluable job in terms of flexibility and storage capacity. For everything you need to be quickly close at hand, the ideal item of office furniture. And although they disappear almost out of sight when rolled discreetly under the desk top, they are anything but shy and retiring, with coloured fronts, handles and casings to make an unforgettable impression.

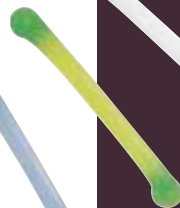

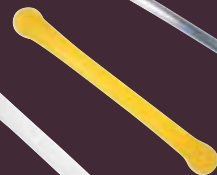

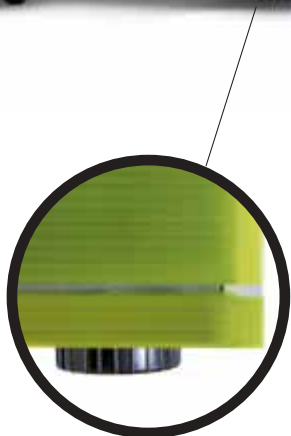

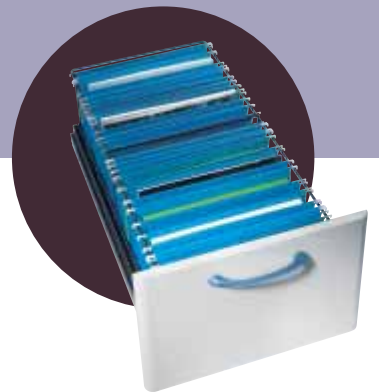

Mobil if required...

Small Giants

Roll up, roll up... Our small pedestals make a big impression with their soft lines and rounded edges, the wide variety of possible inside layouts and subdivisions, and their variable heights. They glide dynamically across the floor and are brought to a standstill with the same ease. Or would you prefer your handy helpmate to be fixed to the spot? No problem with a sturdy base. And then there are 16 different types of handles. Big performance from a little giant.

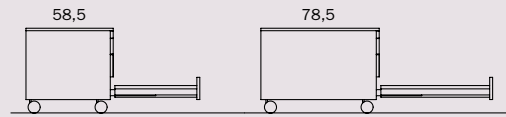

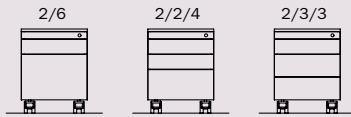

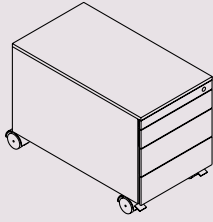

The pedestal offers scope for just about everything the office worker could possibly need – and more. Tidy, neat, handy - those indispensable bits and bobs, the form sheets ready to hand when you open the drawer. Or go into greater depth with a hanging file system with room for everything from A through to Z. And use it as a handy extra surface next to or under the desk.

Here is your pedestal!
