Rethinking the office

Already mobile?

Gone is the day of the static office, the day of the cupboard. A Moby can make your office as mobile as you are. The Moby accommodates everything you need for your work and takes it wherever you happen to need it. So whether you work at changing workplaces in your job, or take your work home with you, the Moby is a reliable companion – an indispensable helper for a whole new, flexible way of working. Needless to say, Moby comes in a range of sizes and models to address every individual need and fit into every type of environment. And when not in use, the Moby waits patiently until it is needed in the Moby garage, taking care of a neat and tidy office.

Every Moby has a “catch”

The inner life of the Moby can differ as much as the job we do. Let it organize your work with a drawer or hanging files, with storage space for folders, room for all your utensils and even those private little things you wouldn't want to be without at work. The Moby is your letterbox, your cloakroom and your mobile cupboard – a truly multifunctional helper.

Your choice!

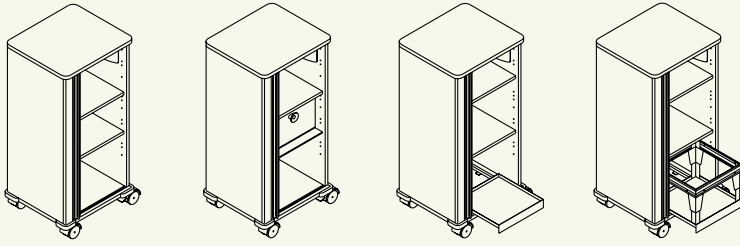

@home and at the office

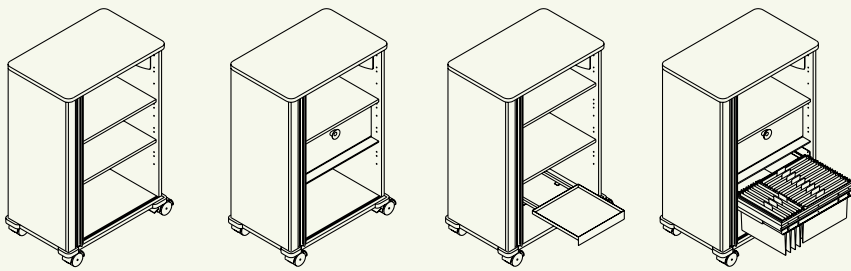

Your Moby will let you design your own workplace just exactly how and where you want it. The colours and materials create a special atmosphere of its own. And another feature of your Moby you are certain to appreciate: Transformed into a temporary standing workplace, it will let you stretch your back and legs.
