Motivated and creative employees are a company's biggest assets. That is why they need an inspiring as well as flexible work environment. For communication and concentration. Subtle in design and adaptable in its functionality. At all times. Quba & Vitesse = Time through space x money. Including company profits.

Your work demands a lot of you.

Business is a challenge.

Your job is a complex one.

You need a workspace

that makes life simpler.

Enjoy simplicity with Quba/Vitesse

Quba

Vitesse

Back-to-back configuration

Quba/Vitesse

What would you like?

All configurations are possible.

All extensions are possible:

e.g. Orga screen between two desks for visual and acoustic protection. Guarantees direct access to everything that should always be at hand.

Alone or in teams No problem for Quba or Vitesse. Focused work – alone, in twos or in groups. Team conferencing. Everything is possible

Part of a system; a minimalist form and functional design characterise Quba with a round base and Vitesse with a column base. Both are mobile. Accessories too. Mobile pedestals, desk extension, sub-structure.

Various platforms

Lots of extensions

Compact work stations

The office is there.

All it needs is people.

Quba/Vitesse

Quba/Vitesse Bench. A large desk based on the model of the spacious library desks. With lots of space. For stationery and mobile workers. For individual as well as project team work. Integrated access to data and electricity networks. Success is practically guaranteed.

With its transparent lines, the Quba/Vitesse counter is an appealing gesture of hospitality. Sociable and multi-talented, with a worldly touch. Accommodates work and workers perfectly. Makes visitors feel welcome. That is how your reception should be.

*When work is a pleasure
life is a joy*

Creating an Inspiration Office

Balance privacy

Make work visible

Manage connections

Offer inspiring spaces

Support diverse workstyles

Manage facilities strategically

The office is a visible framework for a company's people, processes and culture. It is a repository of large investments – and significant potential. It is a strategic resource and can play an instrumental role in a company's profits. A new office provides the decisive opportunity to redefine corporate communication, culture and processes. The first thing that needs to be done is to compare visions with reality and convert ideas into economically sound solutions. For this purpose, Steelcase has developed an intensive, scientifically-based process, through which corporate goals, philosophies, strengths and weaknesses are identified. The aim is to create a customised office that is precisely tailored to a company's needs, with (financially) concrete advantages. An office where workers feel good, where communication is measurably improved, and where corporate culture is supported or even lastingly modified. Steelcase turns offices into "Inspiration Offices".

Making connections. No problem with these components. Electricity and data are elegantly conveyed to wherever they are needed. Optimal space for technology. Further options? Yes, from counters to lecterns. Optimal additions to your workspace.
