Tenaro – Feel-good furniture

I am active.
I need a workspace
where I feel good
the whole day long.

A modern lifestyle.

A modern working style.

Sometimes sitting.

Sometimes standing.

You need a workspace

that does everything with you.

Tenaro. One word for an ingenious system. Few supporting legs provide lots of room for movement. Simple adjustments accommodate various working heights. Refined cable management makes for a perfect IT set-up. Coherent system extensions round it all off. What do Tenaro customers think about it? "The new furniture system is light, flexible and ergonomically perfect. It is also outstanding value for money. And it's easy to move around." We couldn't find a better description than that!

Feel good

with Tenaro

Tenaro works like you do

Tenaro

Whatever model you choose – Tenaro is sleek, functional and shapely.

Saving space means saving resources. No problem with the Tenaro corner solution. Make your office work for you.

First glimpse: normal writing desk. Second glimpse: Cleverly thought-out technology – built-on screen for top organization and privacy, plus integrated flex-lights.

Ergonomics is the Tenaro hallmark. The desk can be easily adjusted to various working heights.

Separate double station with shared partition. Cleverly thought-out combo workspace that can also be adjusted to various working heights.

Working intelligently means using both head and body. The ideal solution is Tenaro as a standing and sitting workstation, electrically adjustable from 68 to 135 cm.

Tenaro also cuts a fine form at meetings.

Mini solution. Space for laptop and documents. Finds a spot everywhere.

Part of a whole

Tenaro is a desk system that forms part of a range: It is complemented by pedestals and cabinets, useful accessories and comfortable seating facilities from the large Steelcase collection. All "building blocks" are geared towards one goal – a flexible, space-saving and modern office layout with customized adjustability to work conditions of individual employees.

When work is a pleasure life is a joy

Communicators and filing cabinets, smart folding screens and lecterns – all forming a harmonious whole.

Tenaro – Conference solutions

The elliptical orbit of the planets inspired the worktop of the Tenaro conference table. This is a place where ideas can come together freely. All participants are comfortably seated and have an uninterrupted view of what's happening. That's how conferences succeed!

135 cm

68 cm

Only artists receive standing ovations. So can you with your new Tenaro desk. It can be electrically raised to a height of 135 cm, providing brand new insights into what you're working on. This spectacular desk plays the starring role in your new futuristic office movie.

Create an Inspiration Office

Balance privacy

Manage connections

Support diverse workstyles

Make work visible

Offer inspiring spaces

Manage facilities strategically

The office is a visible framework for a company's people, processes and culture. It is a repository of large investments – and significant potential. It is a strategic resource and can play an instrumental role in a company's profits. A new office provides the decisive opportunity to redefine corporate communication, culture and processes. The first thing that needs to be done is to compare visions with reality and convert ideas into economically sound solutions. For this purpose, Steelcase has developed an intensive, scientifically-based process, through which corporate goals, philosophies, strengths and weaknesses are identified. The aim is to create a customized office that is precisely tailored to a company's needs, with (financially) concrete advantages. An office where workers feel good, where communication is measurably improved, and where corporate culture is supported or even lastingly modified. Steelcase turns offices into "Inspiration Offices".

The wide variety of desktops allows you to choose the counter that suits you best. The huge choice of materials gives free reign to your choice of combinations and adapt easily to your corporate philosophy. Show your business partners and visitors the Tenaro page and watch them be impressed!
