Tenaro

With its innovative products and space solutions, Steelcase enables customers around the world to tap into the potential of businesses and people. Productive usage of workspace is the fruit of intensive research and user observation. We developed the Tenaro desk system in response to the needs of users and businesses.

A modern paradox:
As work becomes increasingly complex, involving multiple tasks and work styles along with more frequent interaction and collaboration, the paradox is that furnishing solutions need to be simpler. Today's diverse workplace needs call for a simple, easy-to-configure system with high flexibility. A system with the scope to address every application and evolve to new requirements every day. Welcome to Tenaro.

Work has numerous facets. Thinking is not only a matter for the brain cells, but also for the spinal column. Luckily, the Tenaro system is ergonomically designed. It ranges from basic desks and telescopically height-adjustable desks (tool-free) to advanced standing/sitting workstations, where desks can be adjusted to the desired height at the press of a button.

Tenaro is an intelligent and highly versatile system: system elements can be configured and combined in numerous ways. This quickly and flexibly creates the necessary room for individual and team work. Including the required IT support for computers and other electronic media equipment, and offering a variety of possible work heights – a truly feel-good workstation.

Working alone or in a team?
This question crops up daily in many offices, sometimes even on an hourly basis. That's why modern work environments are inclined towards system solutions that support a spontaneous exchange between interactive and individual workstyles. Tenaro gives you this spatial freedom!

What's your workstyle?

Teamwork and cooperation are business assets. On a human as well as financial level. Tenaro supports these assets. Teamwork doesn't have to mean an end to privacy. Many people have to switch often between concentration tasks and communication with colleagues. Orgawall is an ideal solution – it provides flexible screening between Tenaro desks.

There is no need to invest in an expensive, purpose-built reception system at your office. Simply attach our attractive, semi-transparent panels – with top shelf and convenient rail - to the front of a Tenaro workstation and get ready to welcome your first visitors. It's an intelligent and highly effective solution that demonstrates Tenaro's versatility.

Tenaro Conferencing

Whether you need a great place to hold team meetings or presentations, or a dedicated teleconferencing solution, Tenaro rises to the occasion. The system provides tables in a variety of dimensions and materials, allowing you to create both functional and aesthetic spaces for groups of people who need to come together and talk.

Tenaro

standing/sitting variations

Numerous studies have proven that changes in work posture bring about multiple benefits: Static loads on the spinal column are minimised while blood circulation is enhanced. This results in motivation and greater efficiency. Not to mention the fact that mobility is a basic human need! Tenaro Lift is the ideal solution to this need: A press of the button and the desk is raised from a height of 68 cm to 135 cm. You choose the position to suit your own needs.

A variety of ways to equip your workstations

These two pages feature just one example from the offering, with which you can equip your workstation to suit your desires and work applications. All applications are as flexible as they are effective, as you might expect from a system like Tenaro.

In order for you to stay in touch...

...Tenaro wire management is not only virtually invisible but also unbeatably versatile, from sockets through to cable channels. Tenaro routes cables to places where they are needed.

The choice is yours

Tenaro allows you to lay out your workstation to suit your needs. You can choose from a wide variety of desktop shapes, while also being able to choose between laminate and wood veneer. There is even a wide choice of base frame colours and designs. Orgawall fabrics are also available in a variety of colours.

Tenaro system

Tenaro is like a building block... where all parts fit together. You decide how much of it will serve as a workstation. You can extend it at any time.

Tenaro is much more than a desk. The system supports numerous modular elements with which you can configure your workstation to suit your exact requirements. Making you feel good!

What we stand for

For several decades, Steelcase has been setting trends in the office furniture market – not only with its range of products but also with its comprehensive range of services, ranging from “simple” office design to large-scale projects, and from consulting to furniture management. Innovative solutions are developed on the basis of user observations and research, as well as in-house and independent studies jointly conducted with renowned universities and institutes, which are involved with all facets of work, work organisation and ergonomics. Steelcase incorporates this knowledge into the development of user-friendly and environmentally sustainable work spaces, harmoniously combining architecture, layout and technology. This converts office space into a strategic asset, helping businesses to fulfil their goals. Throughout the process, Steelcase focuses on product quality. Our management systems meet current international quality standards (ISO 9000) and environmental standards (ISO 14000). We therefore guarantee that all our customers around the world enjoy the same level of product quality and service. Our stringent testing processes guarantee long service life and product safety. Our products frequently go beyond official standards. This enables us to provide an international manufacturer's guarantee of up to 8 years.

Steelcase and the environment

In addition to their exceptional quality, Steelcase products are also exceptionally environment-friendly. We have made it our duty to meet the needs of the present without depriving future generations of the ability to cover their own needs.

Sustainable development means:

- Saving resources and using recycled materials
- Increasing a product's service life
- Simplifying maintenance
- Cutting down on product weight and volume, thus reducing shipment costs
- Improving recycling capacity, thus reducing waste disposal costs

All our new products undergo a life-cycle analysis. Results are published with each environmental product declaration.
